

BBYO VOLUNTEER CHAPTER ADVISOR

Volunteer chapter advisors play a key role in the success of BBYO by working closely with teens to run strong chapter programs, develop leadership skills, and make their chapters great. This is an amazing opportunity to make an impact in the local Jewish community by empowering Jewish teens to do great things.

US:

Volunteer chapter advisors play a key role in the success of BBYO by working closely with teens to run strong chapter programs, develop leadership skills, and make their chapters great. This is an amazing opportunity to make an impact in the local Jewish community by empowering Jewish teens to do great things.

YOU:

You are someone who wants to give their time in a way that will impact the community. Our advisors help develop our teens into leaders, while supporting them as they navigate their high school years. BBYO is looking for advisors who are relationship driven and are confident in their ability to serve as a role model for others.

ADVISOR REQUIREMENTS:

- You must be 21 + years of age
- You should have availability to staff programs on periodic nights and weekends
- Transport self to and from chapter or regional events
- Successful completion of a background check

WHAT YOU'LL DO AS A VOLUNTEER CHAPTER ADVISOR

You'll sit in the passenger seat while teens take the wheel: you'll challenge them, support them, help keep them focused, and connect them with resources so that they can do their best work and grow along the way. Additionally you might:

- Provide supervision during chapter programs, helping to maintain a safe and inclusive environment
- Guide teens through the program planning process
- Keep the chapter connected to the international order through participation in chapter, region, and movement wide campaigns and initiatives.
- Ensure consistent communication between chapter members and parents
- Help to resolve conflicts among chapter members
- Empower the teens to make decisions, develop younger teen members into leaders, and create a strong community

ADVISORS CAN ALSO ENJOY THE ADDITIONAL PERKS:

- Meaningful relationships with the BBYO members, parents, and partners
- Free professional development and training opportunities
- Personal connections to the local Jewish community
- Opportunity to staff domestic and international travel experiences
- A social community of more than 700 advisors locally and worldwide—many advisors have met their best friends (or even their beshert) through advising
